RSI BULLETIN #R-024

FROM: Daniel C. Ludwig

DATE: May 6, 1994

SUBJECT: Data for Heavy Duty Tests Conducted Prior to Registration

Based upon information gathered from processes described in RSI Bulletins R-021 and R-023, RSI does not need the entire test report for heavy duty test data being submitted retroactively. The only information required for heavy duty tests submitted retroactively are the "Summary of Key Performance Measurements" as described in RSI Bulletin #R-023 and the sheet entitled "Retroactive Submission of Heavy Duty Engine Test Data" from RSI Bulletin #R-021.

This bulletin applies only to eligible test data generated prior to commencement of heavy duty test registration. With respect to registered tests, RSI will continue to receive the entire test report (less photos) until the selection of relevant test report pages is completed.
